

Heighten your awareness with the energy of colors through Spectropathy

Science has proven that every living thing has energy and vibration. Spectropathy uses the only energy we can actually see which is Visible light in the form of Color. When a vibration pattern of the body is no longer in Synchronization, the body becomes ill. By applying specific colors to support the body to change the vibrations back to their original pattern the body can promote healing once again.

Hospitals use color on Jaundice babies, Dermatologist use Blue light on Acne & Psoriasis Some Doctors use a Indigo light on Fibromyalgia to relive muscle fatigue, inflammation and Pain.

With HIV a Yellow light would support a healthy immune system & Violet light for building healthy white blood cells . Any illness, pain, infection, stress, breakdown or shock results in our physical bodies altering this energy to accommodate the weakened or injured area .By re-toning the body with the necessary color it will reinforce that area to promote self healing

The Medical field is agreeing that our bodies are more than just physical and accepting Color therapy as a valid form of treatment.

How Does all this work :

A soft Color light flows over the body and is absorbed. This trigger's a response from one of the Nine body systems and there system components.. As the color vibrates within the body at a specific frequency that frequency is then transmitted to an area within the body that recognizes it. The vibration will tune that specific area which will then stimulate your body's own ability to restore and maintain optimum health .along with strengthen your immune system, reduce pain, improve sleep. We are all built the same but how our bodies accept the color can vary from person to person. Some hereditary disorders may not respond but there symptoms can be alleviated.

Color therapy does not heal rather it enables the body to heal itself.
